IV. Cabin Leader Training Meetings

As a staff, we are working hard to create concise but detailed cabin leader training sessions that will prepare you to be a cabin leader and an effective witness to your students. The schedule of the meetings is below and we expect that you attend at least TWO of the meetings, although we highly recommend coming to all four. We are excited for the content of each meeting and each meeting is designed to prepare you for the privilege and responsibility of shepherding a cabin of young students. If you cannot make the meetings for any reason, please let us know and we will be fair in our judgment.

Please read the following statements and sign (electronically below):

I understand that submitting this application does not mean that I will be automatically accepted as a Cabin Leader for Winter Vision 2015. To the best of my knowledge, the information in this application is correct and will be subject to verification, which may include a criminal history check and/or a request from any central registry of child abusers. I realize that the leaders of this retreat are grateful for my willingness to serve, and they will prayerfully consider my application. Whatever the decision, I will respond accordingly. If I am accepted as a Cabin Leader, I understand that I am committed to attend all training meetings and Winter Vision functions in the absence of extenuating circumstances.

The opportunity to cabin lead at Winter Vision is open to anyone who is able and fit for the responsibility. Applications will be made available and reviewed by the deans to ensure all those applying are able and fit to serve. It will be the decision of the Winter Vision deans to confirm those who will serve. Because Winter Vision is a Holiness Conference event, consideration will be given first to individuals who regularly attend Holiness Conference churches. However, please also note that this does not mean those who regularly attend Holiness Conference churches are guaranteed a cabin leading position. Ultimately, it will be left to the discernment of the Winter Vision deans and director to confirm those who will serve as cabin leaders.

Cabin leaders and staff are held to a higher standard as those in a leadership position, and furthermore representatives of God. For this reason we ask that each staff member be mindful
